LANDSLIDES CAUSED DAM TO GIVE WAY

Engineers Survey in Flood Area Shows Probable Cause

BULLETIN.
Los Angeles, March 15.—(AP)—Testimony at the first inquest of the St. Francis dam flood victims held at Moor Park today indicated that a total of 285 bodies had been recovered.

This figure, clashing with previous estimates caused a sharp upward jump in the death toll.

The coroner's jury made no attempt to fix blame for the disaster but brought in a straight verdict of "accidental drowning due to the breaking of the St. Francis dam."

Los Angeles, March 15.—(AP)—William Mulholland, chief engineer of the Los Angeles bureau of water and power, after a thorough inspection of the scene of the St. Francis dam collapse, declared his belief today that a series of landslides above the dam caused the catastrophe.

"Something terrible happened to break that huge mass of concrete into bits," Mulholland said.

Water and Power Bureau engineers reported they found evidences of three slides above the dam which poured the earth into the lake suddenly raising its level and finally forcing the gigantic buttress to collapse.

Coroner Frank Nance of Los Angeles county was seeking the answers to two questions, whether the dam was faultily built and whether Los Angeles city officials had any reason prior to the disaster to fear that it might give way. The latter phase of the inquiry sprang from statements of ranchers living below the dam that it had been leaking or seeping for some time.

First Inquests Today
The first inquests over bodies of victims were opened today in Ventura county, two in the morning at Moorpark and Fillmore, and two in the afternoon at Santa Paula and Oxnard.

While investigations proceeded the work of recovering bodies, checking the missing and rebuilding on the scene of destruction also went steadily ahead.

Location of eleven bodies in a basin off the Santa Clara river near Saticoy resulted in a large force of men being sent to that point to seek other victims.

At all centers in the area hit by the flood Red Cross canteens were operating, serving food, distributing clothing and giving medical attention when needed.

200 in Morgues
Approximately 200 bodies of the flood dead were in improvised morgues in the flood area, this morning as searchers prepared to renew their hunt for additional bodies. Approximately 300 people were said to still be missing.

In a number of instances only one member of a family of five or more had reported alive, and searchers for the missing argued that the natural instinct of family groups to reunite would have accounted for scores of such before now if those on the rolls of the missing were alive.

A burning sun and a dry wind from the low barren hills to the east seemed to have bleached out the miles and miles of silt which, almost as a wave of the hand of fate, replaced happy home yards and smart little orchards.

Evidence of Search.
Everywhere over that long winding stretch to the sea were visible the marks made in the feverish work of retrieving bodies. A hole dug here; a splintered plank dragged out of the mire there; prints of horses hoofs everywhere, attested the thoroughness of yesterday's search, three hundred mounted men each with pick and shovel slung over saddle horn, plodded in the heat and the dazzling reflecting from the whitening sands all through the day.

Where the yellowish, sandy much was deepest, steam shovels were brought into play. Mules and pack horses did their part when bodies were found too far from passable roads for automobiles and trucks to reach.

To the south of the stricken area, where the river bed had been combed thoroughly and the bodies removed to Newhall, a transformation took

STOCK SHIPPERS OF EAST END OF COUNTY TO MEET

Mgr. Chicago Producers Assn. to be the Speaker

A meeting of livestock shippers of Steward and vicinity will be held in the high school building there at 7:30 o'clock Friday evening, to be followed with a similar gathering in Paw Paw at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon, to which all interested livestock growers are invited. The meetings have been arranged by the Lee County Farm Bureau for the purpose of stimulating farmers to ship their livestock through their own organizations, the greatest of which in the Chicago Stock Yards is the Chicago Producers Commission Association.

This association is the largest farmers' selling agency in the yards, and during the week ending March 3, handled 358 carloads of livestock—189 carloads more than its nearest rival. This surplus included 17 carloads of cattle and 122 carloads of hogs over the commission agency which was runner up.

The manager of the Chicago Producers Assn., D. L. Swanson, will be the speaker at the Steward and Paw Paw meetings, and he will explain in detail the marketing practices in the Chicago yards. Two reels of moving pictures, showing stock yard activities will also be shown at each of the gatherings.

FALL ACCUSED OF BARTERING INDIANS' LANDS

Quapaw Tribe is Seeking to Have Leases to Lead Co. Voided

Tulsa, Okla., March 15.—(AP)—Albert B. Fall has become the central figure in another trial involving leasing of government lands in which the name of Harry F. Sinclair, co-defendant with the former Secretary of the Interior in the Teapot Dome case, also has been mentioned.

The trial here was instituted by the wealthy Quapaw Indians, who seek to cancel leases on valuable mining properties made to the Eagle Picher Lead Company in 1922. The Indians allege Fall approved the leases without conforming to tribal treaties with the government and without competitive bidding.

With virtually the entire Quapaw tribe assembled and with their leaders crowding the district court room, C. B. Ames, of tribal counsel, charged that competitive bidding for the leases "broadcast by Fall was a mere sham and pretense."

Answering the defense contention that the leases had been made in conformity to all existing statutes and treaties, Ames charged that Fall, urged by Sinclair, had determined to award the properties to the Lead Company.

Ex-Commissioner Called
Charles H. Burke, Commissioner of Indian Affairs when the leases were executed, was called to the stand to give his version and told of sending engineers to survey the tracts and determine the policy best for the Indians.

Burke said that a new form of lease was approved by Fall and that these forms were circulated among prospective purchasers of the Quapaw holdings. He testified that the Eagle led appeared to be the highest and best.

Judge Franklin E. Kennerly took a hand in the questioning of Indian witnesses when Atine Frazier, former Senator from Ohio, introduced a letter signed by several plaintiff Indians to the effect that they did not want the leases cancelled. Several Indians testified they were informed by "Cap" Carter, Indian Agency employee, that nothing would come of the present suit. Others said they signed the letters to be sure of receiving their monthly allowances from the government.

I. N. U. WAREHOUSE SCENE OF FIRE EARLY THIS MORN; OLD LANDMARK THREATENED

Reynolds Wire Factory Also Damaged by Water and Smoke

Fire believed to have started from spontaneous combustion on the third floor of the Illinois Northern Utilities Company's warehouse on E. River street this morning shortly after 6 o'clock, threatened destruction to one of Dixon's old landmarks and at the same time imperiled adjoining property. The flames had evidently smoldered for hours within the building, breaking through the metal roof shortly after 6 o'clock, to be discovered by Walter Preston, who turned in the fire alarm.

Not only the Utilities Company warehouse, but the west end plant of the Reynolds Wire Company, suffering from the conflagration. The damage to the stock of the wire company could not be estimated at press time today, but at the offices it was stated that insurance covered the loss. Water which entered the west end of the wire screen plant flooded several departments, damaging stock and equipment.

Wire Workers Help.
The employees of the Reynolds Wire Company materially aided the city fire department, which responded with both the new pumper and the old truck. The fire fighting equipment of the wire factory, which is a separate unit from the city water system, pumping water direct from the mill race, was set in motion and several streams of water were directed on the building. Two streams from the top of the wire plant were of sufficient force to tear away the corrugated iron roofing of the I. N. U. warehouse and water was poured into the building from all sides until it stood eight inches deep on the main floor.

The automatic sprinkler system on the outside of the wire plant was brought into service and the west wall was sprayed from several valves, thus preventing a spread of the flames into this building.

I. N. U. Loss Estimated.
At the offices of the Illinois Northern Utilities Company this morning it was estimated that the loss on property and material would not exceed $10,000. The loss on the building was estimated at $5,000 and on material, about $2,000, all of which is covered by insurance.

The fire is thought to have started in the center of the building on the top floor where a quantity of construction camp equipment was stored. The blaze was confined to this floor and damage on the two lower floors was caused by water. Work of repairing the building will start at once, it was announced. A force of men started work this afternoon, clearing away the debris and a contractor will begin tearing away the charred timbers and constructing a new roof Monday morning.

At the offices of the Reynolds Wire Company, it was stated at noon that the amount of loss from water damage had not been estimated, but that insurance covered the entire amount.

DADS' AND BOYS' BANQUET SCOUT PLAN THURSDAY

Big Event in Dixon Scouting Ranks on Next Week

Next Thursday will mark one of the biggest Boy Scout events for Dixon Scouting when the Dad's will sit in a banquet with their boys. Those men of the city who do not have boys will take some boy who hasn't a Dad. The committee: Rev. R. C. Talbot, Gerald Jones, Elwin Bunnell, T. J. Miller, Jr., and Dewey Kinn who are Scoutmasters of the Dixon Scouts, are planning an interesting program which will be announced later. One prominent speaker from out of town along with the local Scouts will make up the program.

Every loyal Dad will make a special effort to attend the banquet for this will be the one great opportunity to enjoy the evening with the son who is or will be working in the great world wide boy organization.

If the average Dad knew as little about his business as he does about his boy, what would happen? What does the boy do with the three thousand and hours of time a year which he has out side of school? Does the Dad know? If not he should find out and capitalize the golden opportunity by being a real pal with the boy. This banquet will give the boy and father an evening filled with fellowship and fun. It is being looked forward to with eager interest.

The banquet will be held in the dining room of the Elks Club and by all indications the room will be filled. Plans for the coming training course and the summer camping season will also be given out at this large gathering of Scout enthusiasts.

Religious Survey is Nearing Finish

The religious survey of the city, which has been under way since Monday evening, enlisting the services of 200 workers, is nearing completion. Workers are reporting at the headquarters established at the Y. M. C. A. and the bulk of the work will be finished by Thursday evening. Executive officers are checking and listing the cards and each pastor will receive cards indicating all residents who have indicated preference for his church. The task has been a tremendous one but splendid enthusiasm has been evidenced at all times.

BOND PROBE IS TRANSFERRED TO CHICAGO TODAY

Little New Learned by Senators in Their Day's Inquiry

BULLETIN.
Washington, March 15.—(AP)—Senator Borah is prepared to raise the $160,000 to repay Harry F. Sinclair, oil operator and lessee of Teapot Dome, for his contribution to the republican party if the Republican National Committee declines to act on his suggestion for such a move.

Chicago, March 15.—(AP)—Shifting the scene of its inquiry from the national capital to this city, the Senatorial Teapot Dome sub-committee heard witnesses in rapid succession today, but obtained little, if any, information of importance relating to the use of the Continental Trading Company liberty bonds in helping to extinguish the deficit of the Republican National Committee in 1923.

Edward Hines, wealthy lumber dealer, testified that he had not even contributed to the Republican party chest in that year and never had been reimbursed for any of his gifts in other years.

A similar statement was contained in a telegram from George M. Reynolds, Chairman of the Board of the Continental & Commercial National Bank of Chicago, in which institution the Republican National Committee keeps some of its accounts.

"I know nothing whatever about the Sinclair bonds," he telegraphed. "I never saw or heard of any of those bonds."

Appearing for William Wrigley, Jr., who is in California, William T. Stanley testified that Wrigley had contributed money to the Republican political fund in 1920, 1922 and 1924, but that he never had been reimbursed for any of these contributions.

Stanley testified that Wrigley Liberty Bonds he owned. He was directed to furnish the serial numbers of all such 3 1/2 per cent bonds of the first issue.

To Summon West
Immediately upon arriving here today to pursue the inquiry, the committee issued subpoenas for Roy O. West, Secretary of the Republican Committee.

Later in the day it was proposed to issue subpoenas for more than a score of other Chicago men prominent in the financial and political world. This will give the sub-committee, headed by Senator Nye, Republican, North Dakota, a total of nearly four score witnesses for its three day sitting here.

West was long a close associate of the late Fred W. Upham, Treasurer of the Republican National Committee in 1918 to 1924 who handled $60,000 of the $260,000 of Liberty Bonds which Harry F. Sinclair handed to Will H. Hays late in 1923 to help wipe out the Republican party deficit in advance of the 1924 campaign.

An examination of the Republican party records given to the Teapot Dome committee at Washington by William V. Hodges of Denver, present Treasurer of the Republican National Committee, shows that 1924 the Cook County Republican Committee made a gift of $25,000 to the National Republican organization. The Senate investigators want to know whether the Cook County committee, headed by one of the Sinclair bonds and made its contribution in cash.

West Denies Rumor
West today termed "utterly foolish" a story in a morning newspaper that he would resign his position in June at the national convention in Kansas City.

"My position, and those of William V. Hodges, Treasurer, and William M. Butler, chairman, automatically become vacant at that time," he explained. "This is true of all committees appointed by the Republican National Convention four years ago. So there would be no reason for resigning."

Whether I would serve again, as Secretary would depend on conditions, the nominees, other appointees and the location of headquarters.

"My associates have been unusually congenial and I was able to carry on the work here in Chicago, my home city."

Mr. Hodges at Denver confirmed reports that he would not be a candidate for the party trusteeship at the expiration of his present four year term.

COAST GUARDS GET REPORTS; INVESTIGATE

"Yellow Object," Two Human Beings Seen On Me. Island

Biddeford, Maine, March 15.—A motorboat started from the Fletcher's Neck coast guard station at Biddeford Pool shortly before 2 o'clock this afternoon for Stratton's Island to investigate a report that two persons and an object resembling an airplane of a yellowish color, had been seen through glasses trained on the island from Old Orchard Beach.

BULLETIN.

Portland, Maine, March 15.—(AP)—The Evening Express learns that coast guards at the Biddeford Pool station this afternoon were investigating an unconfirmed report that a yellow object and two human beings, possibly the missing Endeavour and its occupants Captain Walter R. Hinchliffe and the Honorable Elsie Mackay, are safe on Stratton Island, about two miles off Old Orchard Beach.

A woman who made the report, stated that although it was misty many people gathered on the beach at Old Orchard could unmistakably see the yellow object and the two people, who seemed to be waving. A man, who refused to reveal his identity, telephoned the Evening Express and revealed similar information. He said that the "yellow thing and two people" could be seen plainly.

New York, March 15.—(AP)—Despite widespread but unconfirmed reports of planes heard winging through the night, fear increased today that a Viscount's daughter had followed a Princess to death in the latest attempt to fly the perilous western air lane of the North Atlantic.

There was still hope that the Honorable Elsie Mackay and Captain Walter Hinchliffe, British war ace, had somehow escaped the fate met last summer by the Princess Lowenstein-Wertheim and her two pilots, and by Nungesser and Goll, but it was the hope of desperation.

Miss Mackay and Hinchliffe took off in England at 3:40 o'clock Eastern standard time, Tuesday morning and by the most optimistic computation their gasoline could only have kept them aloft until dawn today. But hours after that no definite word had been received of them and aviators generally feared that the North Atlantic, never yet crossed by an airplane in a westerly direction, had increased the number of its victims by two.

New York, March 15.—(AP)—Fear that two more names had been added to the list of fliers lost in Atlantic flights grew today as the hours passed with no trace of the golden-winged "Endeavour" enroute to America from Cranwell airbase, England.

No definite word has been heard from Captain Walter G. R. Hinchliffe and the Honorable Elsie Mackay since they took off from Cranwell at 3:40 A. M. Eastern standard time, Tuesday hoping to reach Philadelphia.

The most optimistic estimate was that they carried fuel enough for 50 hours of flight, enough to keep them in the air until 5:40 this morning under normal conditions. But advice from ships along the great circle course, and weather developments along the Irish coast indicated that they encountered severe storms which probably reduced their speed.

Many Vague Rumors
As was the case with the other ten fliers lost on the dangerous north Atlantic crossing, various rumors came of a plane being heard.

These reports caused more excitement in the case of the Hinchliffe plane than in previous flights due to persons in New England and New Jersey, along the route the plane might follow in its flight from Newfoundland to Philadelphia, thinking they heard the motor of a plane. These finally culminated in a report

Dr. Young Addressed Grade P.T.A. Meeting

The South Side Grade Parent-Teacher Association held a most enjoyable and interesting meeting Wednesday afternoon in the auditorium of the high school, but the attendance was small owing mostly to the large amount of sickness prevalent.

Mrs. Gartman, president of the Association, presided.

The third grade of the E. C. Smith school sang three selections which were well rendered.

The next meeting of the South Side Grade P. T. A. will be held on the first Wednesday in April. It will be an evening meeting and Mrs. C. M. Dale, Regional Director, will have charge.

The state convention will be held at Streator, the 24th, 25th and 26th of April, and it is hoped the attendance will be large.

Mrs. H. C. Bartholomew, chairman of the entertainment committee, made an inspiring talk.

Helen and Mary Conrad, sisters, sang two beautiful numbers, which were well received.

Then Mrs. Bartholomew introduced Rev. J. Franklin Young, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, who gave the address of the afternoon, which proved most interesting and gave much food for thought to all present, his subject being "Discipline." The word "discipline" is too often taken to mean hard, harsh treatment, but it does not. It means study, practice, learning, training and education; it means the imparting to the child, principles of self control, and rules of behavior for his own happiness and well being, and for the happiness and peace of mind of those about him. The great point made in this truly wonderful talk was self control and that a well disciplined child is very much worth while. Dr. Young talked of nature, also, of trees, and the woods and fields, and of what a large place they occupy in the mind of the child. His address was thoroughly enjoyed by each one present.

The Parent-Teachers Associations have joined together and have purchased dishes for future use.

Adventurous Career of Lady Mackay Recalled

London, March 15—(AP)—The attempt of the Honorable Elsie Mackay to fly the Atlantic with Captain Walter Hinchiff, stirred recollections today of her adventurous career.

Since childhood the 35-year-old daughter of the noted shipowner, Lord Inchcape, led an active life. She was a good rider and a keen follower of the fox hounds, showing complete fearlessness in the hunting field.

She was an indefatigable dancer. Her love for the theater when she was quite young, led her to become an actress on both the stage and in motion pictures. When she was still in her twenties she was leading lady in "Grumpy" with Cyril Maude under the name of Poppy Wyndham. At the time she was married to the actor, Captain Dennis Wyndham. She had met him while nursing in her mother's hospital during the war.

The marriage was subsequently annulled and she resumed her maiden name.

The stage did not suffice to satisfy her astounding energy, which friends liken to that of a hustling man, and she took up flying. She was a pupil of Sir Alan Cobham, Britain's aerial taxman. Soon she became proficient in the handling of planes and got a flying certificate in 1922. One of the tests for this was a solo ascent to 5000 feet. She bought the machine in which she passed the tests. Since then she had been an enthusiastic aviator frequently making trips by plane to Paris, Scotland and other points.

She also took a close interest in her father's business and was reputed to know as much about shipping as Lord Inchcape. Friends claim that she was her father's right hand "man" having an office in his London house.

BIG THINGS LOST IN LITTLE—

By Olive Roberts Barton

Two girls went to a play. It was a marvelous play, skillfully written and beautifully acted. The audience laughed and cried by turns, swayed absolutely by the master pen of the playwright.

When they came out, one girl slipped her tear-soaked handkerchief into her bag and dabbed some powder on her swollen nose.

"Silly!" laughed the other "What was there to cry about? I couldn't see a thing but that girl's red wig. No human hair ever looked like that. Reminded me of an old sheep's-wool rug we had at home one time."

A prima donna was singing. Her voice filled the theater. The audience held its breath thrilled to their toes. Then suddenly there was a titter. Soon half the audience was giggling. The reason was obvious. The spotlight threw the silhouette of the singer on a curtain behind her. As she sang the shadow of her hand made a perfect donkey's head. Sometimes it even opened its mouth to bray.

The performance was ruined. A lecturer, now dead and gone, but immortalized by the words of wisdom packed away in a small weekly magazine still cherished by his followers, once gave a talk to some school girls. He smacked his lips a bit as he spoke and the girls went into hysterics. "I was one. Later I read the same lecture in a magazine. If ever there was a gem of wisdom, kindness and beauty, that lecture was one. I have been ashamed ever since. I saved the printed words for years, a constant reminder of my silliness. We lose big things by attention to little ones."

Boys Take Command of Mother's Kitchen

Port Worth, Tex.—(AP)—Flaunting the banner of "needles and pins" and adhering to the adage that "when a man marries his trouble begins," nine boys at Polytechnic high school have forsaken association with girls.

The youths, to fortify their position of independence, are enrolled in the cooking class of the domestic science department.

Visits by Andrews to the homes of the boys revealed that all nine of them virtually have supplanted their mothers in the kitchens.

THE WILL TO WIN.

The Telegraph congratulates the Dixon Chamber of Commerce on the selection of its new President, Mr. Ray Kline. Mr. Kline, besides possessing a natural executive ability, has, as a part of his makeup, something very valuable and necessary in a job of the kind he has undertaken, and that is enthusiasm, energy and driving power.

The Chamber of Commerce has a tough job in Dixon, and, for all we know, in every town. It is not only up against the big task of convincing outside interests that Dixon is a better community than any other (and, although we know it is we must realize that we have been competition) but it is also up against the even more heart-breaking task of keeping alive the spirit of patriotism and co-operation among our own citizens. Public apathy here at home, unjust criticism and bolshevism in our own ranks cripples the Chamber of Commerce and makes its work doubly difficult.

When our own citizens place obstacles in the path of the one organization that is bending every effort to improve our city they are using rotten judgment, if any. And it is not necessary to be a knocker to be a dead weight. Those of us who withhold our support, financial and moral, are a drag on the progress of Dixon.

Don't drag, Mr. Dixonite. Get up and push.

GOV. LEN SMALL—THINGS YOU SHOULD KNOW.

Governor Len Small was born in Kankakee county, June 16, 1862, being one of three honored by election as chief executive of the state, who are natives of Illinois.

Over 5,000 miles of hard roads have been built in Illinois during the seven years of Governor Len Small's administrations, without a single cent of direct taxation to the people of the state.

Versatility has marked the life of Governor Len Small—farmer, banker, legislator, chief executive of Illinois. He is of the common people and has never lost his touch with the most humble.

Eighty-two per cent of the 6,375 miles of hard roads crossing and recrossing the state of Illinois in all directions were built under Governor Len Small.

Revenue derived from the registration of motor vehicles has paid the entire cost of the state highway system of Illinois, without a cent of direct taxation to the people of the state.

No state in the union has been able to devise a plan equal to that in Illinois for the financing of its state highways, and no state in the union has one-half the mileage of hard roads as built in Illinois under Governor Len Small.

Only the directing hand of a financier, such as Governor Len Small, would be able to bring the credit of the state of Illinois to the high point reached during the present regime, with all issues of state bonds bringing premiums.

Radiating in all directions in Illinois, hard roads stretch from the Wisconsin line to Cairo, from the Mississippi river to the Indiana boundary, all paid for by the registration fees from motor vehicles.

Len Small is the only chief executive of the state of Illinois who has visited every one of the 102 counties of the state, seeking to safe-guard the interests of all.

Every benefit possible has been given in Illinois under Governor Len Small to ex-service men of the World War, with $55,675,835.98 distributed in compensation by the Service Recognition Board.

No chief executive in 109 years of the statehood of Illinois has equalled the record of Governor Len Small in the fairness of all legislation enacted, safeguarding the interests of all and without favoritism to any special faction.

Selecting department directors because of special fitness for the duties assigned, Governor Len Small has given the taxpayers of Illinois 100 per cent service in all departments under the state code.

Motor vehicle registration increased 253 per cent in Illinois in the seven years in which Governor Len Small has constructed more than 5,000 miles of hard roads. This is an increase of approximately one million cars in the state in seven years.

Agricultural interests in Illinois have received marked attention under Governor Len Small, with many measures enacted having for their object the betterment of conditions in the rural sections.

Lindbergh comes to memory with the mention of aviation, and likewise the name of Governor Len Small is synonymously linked with hard roads.

Lumbering oxgangs of the first years of statehood in Illinois have been supplanted by "Lizzies" and limousines as a result of the more than 5,000 miles of hard roads constructed in Illinois during the administrations of Governor Len Small.

THE TINYMITES

STORY BY HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KNICK

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

"Oh, my, but those cream puffs look good, I'd eat one, if I thought I could," said Clowny as he watched the puffs walk by the bowl of cream. "Oh, don't do that," wee Scouty cried. "I'm sure if such a thing were tried, 'twould scare all of the little puffs and they'd begin to scream."

The bowl of cream then said, "You're right. They'd surely run with all their might so please don't try and eat them. Such a scene I'd surely dread. I think you will agree with me, it's best to let them all go free. If you are good, I'll let you have what cream is left, instead."

"Oh, fine!" said Carpy, with a smile. "We'll gladly wait till after 'while. There are not many cream puffs left. I'm very glad of that. When they're all gone we'll get a thrill, by eating till we've had our fill." So, down upon the ground the little band of Tinites sat.

And then they heard the queer bowl scream. "Come on, you Tinites. Have some cream." The bunch rushed up and sailed right in. The cream was very good. It surely was a funny scene, and soon they licked the big bowl clean. Said Clowny, "Well, I'm satisfied, I've eaten all I could."

Just then the bowl jumped up and ran. It shouted, "Catch me, if you can." But not a Tinitite gave chase, 'cause Clowny yelled, "Oh, gee, there's something else that might be queer. And, look, it's coming very near. It looks just like a whoop. I wonder what the thing can be."

"Why, it's a doughnut," Copy said. The doughnut rolled to Clowny's side and said, "I'm very glad to meet the new friends I have found. Let's play together. We'll have fun." And 'twas no sooner said than done. For Clowny grabbed a stick and rolled the doughnut round and round.

(The Tinitites have more fun with the doughnut in the next story.)

MARYE and "MOM" Their Letters

BY RUTH DEWEY GROVES

Marye dearest:

It's really too bad the way you've suffered at the hands of man. Isn't it? No fine motor car, no nice, modern apartment with every luxury! No beautiful clothes—not even a permanent wave!

Marye, I do hate to hear a woman ranting about the injustices man has imposed upon her through the ages. Last week, at the sewing circle, we had an "emancipated" woman present and she talked the same kind of nonsense your last letter contained.

It's true that men have always looked to women to preserve the finer things of life, the spiritual and cultural as well as the moral. And in return for putting us up on a pedestal and "shackling" us they have given us comforts and luxuries and beauty.

Besides, though we may have lost sight of this in our displeasure at having our experiments with life limited according to their ideas of proper conduct for us, we have had the best of the bargain in respect to the two standards.

One grows in beauty and goodness. Marye, and perishes in ugliness and evil. Many may have been thinking of his own interests alone when he "put across" the single standard, granted it was his doing—but if so, he unconsciously thrust more happiness upon woman than she ever footstep.

You may say that man is as happy as woman. True, dear, but would either be happy if woman had embraced the single standard, too? I doubt it.

I'm sure you were more hurt because people gossiped about you than you let on. I didn't tell you to upset you, dear, but just to show you that there are still people in the world who don't approve of the disregard of established customs and conventions. I'm afraid you've failed to realize certain truths that always have and always will exist between men and women. So I wanted you to know that if you won't protect yourself from the consequences of too much liberty you will have to face the censure of those who disagree with you. It is for you to decide if it's worthwhile, Marye darling.

Dearest love,
MOTHER.NEXT: Marye obeys.

HEALTH SERVICE GIVEN SHIPS AT SEA VIA RADIO

U. S. Bureau Has Been Active in Helping Sick on Ships

Since February 4, 1922, the United States Public Health Service has been furnishing medical advice by radio to vessels at sea. The amount of this work has increased and the Public Health Service has often rendered great assistance to vessels at sea in need of medical aid. Advice by radio is furnished from the U. S. Marine Hospitals of the Public Health Service, the Atlantic Coast being served from New York City, the Gulf of Mexico from Key West, New Orleans and Galveston, and the Pacific Coast from San Francisco. On the Great Lakes, the Marine Hospitals at Chicago, Cleveland and the Relief Station at Sault Ste. Marie give medical assistance by radio. The Relief Station of the Public Health Service at Honolulu, serves ships in that vicinity, and those near Manila radio the Relief Station there for advice.

The following example of the messages received and advice given illustrates the value and importance of this service. This message was received from a ship out at sea at a Marine Hospital at 8:44 A. M.:

"Accident, man fell down hold, apparent injury, bruises, left temple and body, dazed condition, symptoms of concussion, require doctor's advice, if necessary assistance." (Signed) Master of Vessel.

Within twenty minutes the following message had been forwarded in reply:

"Absolute rest in bed, ice cap to head, should patient become unconscious later rush to hospital at once, patient can be taken off at quarantine station if necessary." Marine Hospital.

Instances of this kind could be multiplied indefinitely. Frequently a report is given to the hospital from day to day as to the progress of a case. "Patient much improved. Thanks", is a report which is quite frequently received. The variety of cases treated in this way is very great, ranging from toothache to the treatment of fractures of various parts of the body. One vessel sent a frantic appeal for advice as to how to handle a man with delirium tremens.

This medical advice to vessels at sea is greatly appreciated by seafaring men and many letters and radiograms thanking the Public Health Service for the advice given have been received.

The furnishing of such medical advice by radio has been made possible through the generous cooperation of the several radio companies. This service is rendered without cost to the vessel or the hospital.

HALDANE

HALDANE — "Hanging Out the Wash" was one of the short plays given in the Hall last Wednesday night for the benefit of the Haldane Union church. The scene opened with Onyx, Mrs. Leslie Long, a colored lady hanging out the wash. She was soon joined by her friend Emma, Miss Mabel Kitchener, and they told a number of jokes. Onyx then demonstrated her ability as a dancer while Emma caused much laughter when she sang a solo entitled "Do Thyself No Harm." The two colored ladies sang a duet and they surely looked like real darkies in their dresses of bright colors. The second play was entitled "Dumb as a Door Knob." The part of Mrs. Ella Voight was taken by Mrs. Alvie Reiff who had advertised for a maid to clean her house before the arrival of a niece, Stella. The part of the maid Miss Alpha Bett was successfully taken by Miss Carol Appel who really looked as dumb as her name signified. It was impossible for Alpha to do her work correctly so she was fired. After Mrs. Voight had sung a beautiful solo, entitled "The Bells of St. Mary's", Alpha returned but she no longer looked dumb as she was the real Stella who announced she was studying to be an actress. Other parts of the evening's entertainment were a vocal solo, "My Old Rag Doll" by Ethel Long, reading by Joe Brooks, recitation, "Wilma's Views on House Cleaning", by Wilma Reiff, readings by Mrs. Dan Fierheller, Miss Irma Rowland, who accompanied the singing on the piano, played a number of solos which were heartily enjoyed. Each number of the program was greatly enjoyed by the large crowd judging by the amount of applause. The sum of $3.75 was cleared for the benefit of the church.

A large crowd of folks soon gathered and were able to save most of the contents of the garage but from the house only the radio, six chairs and a table were removed as the heat and smoke were too severe. The house is about two and one half miles southwest of Haldane and was owned by Jess' father, D. Z. Osbaugh. The loss was partially covered by insurance but money does not cover the loss of all a family's furniture, bedding, dishes, etc., and the many hours of work that it requires to furnish a home.

I don't know what kind of weather you have today back home, but down here we have rain and it has been raining since 10 o'clock this morning.

Maryland has more automobiles than telephones.

A bill to prohibit the sending of unsolicited merchandise through the mails has been introduced by Representative Watson, Republican, Pennsylvania. This bill failed in the last Congress. It is a good bill to be for.

President Coolidge has signed a bill authorizing the Postmaster General to enter into contracts for the transportation of mail by air to foreign countries and insular possessions of more than 10 years.

The Federal Reserve Board would be increased from 8 to 14 members under a bill introduced by Senator Pine of Oklahoma. The increased membership was designed to make the board more representative, provide for proper control and equitable distribution of credit supply and establish a closer contact between Congress and its agent.

Congressman Hall of Bloomington, Buckbee of Rockford and Rathburn of Chicago, are in Illinois looking after political conditions in their respective districts.

Congressman Charles Adkins of Decatur, who represents the McKinley district, was my forenoon visitor today and we had a discussion of Illinois politics. We are wondering how matters stand out home. We are able to get both sides of the contest pretty well through the newspapers, but we can't get the inside dope unless some one from home happens to drop in. This afternoon, former Congressman James McAndrews of Chicago and William H. Simpson, real estate dealer, also of Chicago, were my visitors and I got some of the inside of Chicago politics. McAndrews is a democrat, but well versed in the affairs of both parties. From their conversation I take it that men are more discussed in the present contest than are issues and parties. I'll wait until after the primaries to give you the inside as told by the above mentioned gentlemen. I am waiting to see just how close they were in their predictions, when the primary battle is over. Mr. McAndrews is here to attend the funeral of his brother, Lieut. Colonel Joseph McAndrews, who died the other day at the age of 66 years. He was a retired army officer and who received a medal for distinguished services during the World War. He was in the Spanish-American war and made a good record as a cavalry officer. He was buried Monday in Arlington cemetery.

People afflicted with bad breath find quick relief through Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The pleasant, sugar-coated tablets are taken for bad breath by all who know them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act gently but firmly on the bowels and liver, stimulating them to natural action, clearing the blood and gently purifying the entire system. They do that which dangerous calomel does without any of the bad after effects.

Olive Tablets bring no griping, pain or any disagreeable effects.

Dr. F. M. Edwards discovered the formula after 20 years of practice among patients afflicted with bowel and liver complaint, with attendant bad breath.

The system of education of Utah was subjected to an exhaustive examination under the direction of the Commissioner of Education and a series of constructive recommendations was submitted in October to the State officers. A survey of 78 negro colleges and universities throughout the United States is well under way; the necessary field work is almost completed and a report is in preparation. A study of the 69 land-grant colleges, to be directed by the Bureau of Education, was authorized by the Congress during the past session, and preparations for it have been begun. It will be the most extensive work of the kind that has been undertaken by the Bureau of Education.

Unrevised registration figures for Chicago today totaled 1,449,942, breaking all previous marks.

Revision of the rolls was expected to reduce the 203,513 new names added to the list in 2,690 precincts yesterday by about 50 per cent. Even after this adjustment is made, however, it was believed Chicago would still have the greatest number of registered voters in the history of the city. VOTERS IN OGLE CITY WIN ROUND TO KEEP UTILITY

Council is Expected to Rescind Ordinance for Its Sale

Rochelle—City commissioners yielded to what seemed to be an overwhelming community sentiment Monday night when they unanimously accepted a petition signed by more than 1,100 local voters demanding the rescinding of a recently passed ordinance authorizing the sale of the city's electric light plant for $500,000.

Acceptance of the petition, it was said, will automatically stop an advertised special election set for March 26 when the proposed franchise of the

To Act March 19?
Next Monday night the commissioners will take action on rescinding the ordinance. In case they fail to retract their previous action, it was explained by City Attorney John B. Hayes, the law requires that the ordinance be submitted to the voters at a special election.

The atmosphere was tense in the council chambers Monday night. Every available seat was taken and hundreds of voters eager to attend the session were turned away.

The petition protesting against the utility sale was presented by Attorney Fred Winick, Walter Hamlin and Attorney Floyd Tilton, representing the "Citizens' League."

Mayor W. B. McHenry, who had predicted that the council would refuse to rescind the ordinance and submit the franchise provision to the voters, presided.

Commissioners Impressed
The commissioners were most apparently impressed by the concentrated effort being made here to block the sale of the utility.

While only 220 names were needed on the petition to submit the ordinance to a referendum vote, the opponents of the sale had more than 1,100. The document contained 57 pages of names.

Attorney Hayes, who was in New Orleans when the council took the original action, was kept busy directing the commissioners as to legality of Monday night's proceedings.

New York, March 13—(AP)—Geo. Kern, Jr., of New York and Willibald Seyppelt of Winnetka, Ill., were back in this country today after traversing 5,000 miles of European airways in their "jitney plane" at a cost of 3½ cents a mile.

The tiny German-made plane, named the "Yankee Doodle," has a wing spread of 43 feet and is a monoplane of the German "Glider" type. It has a cruising range of about 475 miles.

Kern said they used only $180 worth of gasoline and oil on their tour. The machine, he said, performed satisfactorily in all sorts of conditions, and was the smallest plane ever to cross the Alps.

Seyppelt is a former German aviator, now an American citizen, and Kern is the son of a retired New York meat packer who emigrated to this country from Stuttgart, Germany, in 1888. They purchased their plane at Stuttgart and started their trip from there.

RURAL SERVICE DEPARTMENT IS ADDED BY I. N. U.

Agricultural Engineer Now on Utilities Co. Staff

The Illinois Northern Utilities Company has recently added a new department, that of rural service, to its organization. Mr. Frank C. Kingsley, formerly with the University of Illinois, has taken up the activities of this department and will be known as the company's rural service engineer.

Mr. Kingsley's services are made available to the public on various phases of agricultural engineering and his assistance is offered, in a consultative way, on such matters particularly as power usage on the farm and farm home equipment. His services are also offered for talks before farm groups and at times demonstrations of farm power equipment will be given by him. His headquarters will be at the Dixon Office of the Company.

Mr. Kingsley is a graduate in agricultural engineering, having completed the full course with the Kansas State Agricultural College. Upon graduation he took the students training course of one year with the Westinghouse Manufacturing Company. He has been a field engineer at the agricultural experiment station at the University of Illinois for three years, devoting his time to rural electrification study and experiment. Mr. Kingsley extensively assisted Prof. E. W. Lehmann of the University in compiling the important results of experimental work into a circular, "Electricity on the Farm", which will shortly be published by the University of Illinois Agricultural Experiment Station.

The re-opening of the Methodist church took place Sunday morning. It has been beautifully redecorated and an unusually large congregation was present in honor of the occasion. Dr. Lumsden of Dixon delivered the morning address. At the evening service, which was in the form of a musical, Mrs. O. C. Tauberneck had charge. The choir cooperating with the girls glee club from the high school sang many beautiful anthems. A fifteen piece orchestra from Chicago was also present and helped to make the service a success.

The Alimmae Bridge club was entertained Monday evening at the home of Mary and Sarah Prytherch. First prize was won by Miss Charlotte Schott and consolation by Ruby Smith. The refreshments were in keeping with the spirit of the season, the little cakes being coated with green icing, and a miniature shamrock placed jauntily at the apex of each cake. The girls departed at a late hour having enjoyed the evening.

Mrs. Frank Hupach and daughter Dorothy were shopping in Dixon Monday.

LEE CENTER NEWS

Lee Center—Many friends assembled Monday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Riley to assist the latter in celebrating her seventieth birthday. The pleasant affair was planned and intended as a surprise for Mrs. Riley by her niece, Mrs. Tom Coryell, but someone couldn't keep the secret, so everything was in perfect order for the party. Bridge, bunco, euchre and five hundred proved most entertaining, followed by delicious refreshments of sandwiches, pickles, coffee, ice cream and cake. ## Powerful, Penetrating Antiseptic Oil Heals Eczema and Other Skin Diseases Must Give Results in 7 Days or Money Back, Says Rowland Pharmacy and Public Drug & Book Co.

Make up your mind today that you are going to give your skin a real chance to get well.

You've probably been like a lot of other people convinced that the only thing to use was an ointment or salve (some of them are very good) but in the big majority of cases these sticky salves simply clog the pores and the condition primarily remains the same.

Go to Rowland's Pharmacy and Public Drug & Book Co. or any other good druggist today and get an original bottle of Moone's Emerald Oil.

The very first application will give you relief and a few short treatments will thoroughly convince you that by sticking faithfully to it for a short while your skin troubles will be a thing of the past.

Don't expect a single bottle to do it all at once but one bottle we know will show you beyond all question that you have at last discovered the way to restore your skin to perfect health.

Deny Lewis Charges

Washington, March 14.—(AP)—The first denial to charges of John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers that railroads have conspired to break down unionism in coal fields by exercising their large purchasing power, was made today before the Senate committee investigating the bituminous industry by W. C. Bower, manager of purchases and stores for the New York Central.

He testified that he is not and has not been in any "conspiracy, agreement, or understanding with any other railroad system or company to exert bargaining power to depress prices of railroad fuel or to favor non-union operators, or miners, or for any other similar purpose."

COD DEPOSED FROM BOSTON THRONE; HADDOCK RULES WHARVES ALONE

Boston.—(AP)—The sacred wooden codfish still hangs above the door to the hall of representatives in the statehouse at Boston, but its scaly brethren have been deposed in Boston's harbor.

Haddock rules the wharves. For three years now, the National Geographic Society reveals, more pounds of haddock worth more dollars than less pounds of cod have been landed at New England ports. Reports on the 1927 catch, soon to be released, will show the same trend noted in 1926, when 94,000,000 pounds of haddock were landed at the chief New England ports against 78,000,000 of codfish, the society says.

Dominance in New England's fisheries narrows down to paritidal strife within the Gadidae, a fish family. The haddock must defend its throne against cod, pollock and hake. Through the veins of all four species runs the blood of Gadidae.

"How great has been the fall of cod we can measure by looking back to the very beginning of American fisheries in 1534, when its rule began," the society says. "Jacques Cartier's memorandum to King Francis I of France that fish were so thick on the Grand Banks a fisherman need only lower a basket into the sea to bring up a bushel, brought fleets to Newfoundland. Cod was king in New England, Nova Scotia and Newfoundland from that day, but not entirely because of its numbers. Because cod can be preserved by dry salting, while other fish cannot, it has been favored. "The rise of haddock reads like Charles Lamb's story of the empirical invention of roast pig. At Pindon, near Aberdeen, Scotland, there occurred years ago a waterfront fire which damaged a warehouse containing haddock. During the blaze, so the story goes, a breeze brought delicious fragrance to the noses of assembled Scots. They investigated after the fire had been put out and found the taste of smoked haddock quite as delightful as its fragrance. So they named it finnan haddock.

"In America chance has not figured in the success of haddock. The increasing use of ice for preserving perishable freight proved the great boon to American haddock fishing. Fleets of haddock now travel the length and breadth of the land. Grocery stores in Georgia sell fresh haddock. Secondly, haddock swim much closer to New England ports than do cod. Great South Channel, a day's sail from Boston, is the home of haddock, while fishing schooners must lose several days reaching cod fishing grounds on the Grand Banks."

Girl is Now Hindu

Nasik, India, March 14.—(AP)—Joyful at the fulfillment of a girlhood dream, Miss Nancy Ann Miller of Seattle today was a Hindu and qualified to marry Tukoji Rao, former Maharajah of Indore. Her name is now Devi Sharmista, a famous queen of India ten centuries before Christ. The marriage will be Saturday.

Miss Miller in a statement after she had been converted from Christianity to Hinduism said that during her school days she used to read the English translations of "some of the most fascinating bits of the ancient Hindu books."

STUDEBAKER SALES LARGEST IN HISTORY

Both January and February set new high marks in purchases by public!

SOUTH BEND, IND., Mar. 8.—Studebaker sales continue to climb to new goals of achievement! The number of Studebaker-built automobiles delivered to owners by dealers in the United States during the month just closed, was the largest of any February in history and 31% in excess of February, 1927. Coming immediately after the greatest January sales in Studebaker history, this continued flood of public preference for Studebaker is particularly significant.

Motorists appreciate Studebaker's advanced engineering—an automobile you can drive 40 miles an hour the day the new car is delivered—that requires lubrication but once in 2500 miles—that holds all the highest speed and endurance records for fully equipped stock cars, regardless of power or price. The public has rightly interpreted these achievements as conclusive evidence of Studebaker's championship value due to One-Point manufacture.

By all means see and drive these new Studebaker and Erskine cars! Know the feel of championship power at the touch of your foot! Know the results of Studebaker's advanced engineering, tested on Studebaker's million-dollar proving ground. You'll realize then, if you know cars, that Studebaker stands for stability—76 years of it!

ANNE AUSTIN AUTHOR OF "SAINT AND SINNER"

SALLY FORD moved the big brush with angry vigor, while her pale face colored a dull red. "I ain't—I mean, I'm not pretty at all, Clara. But thank you just the same. I used to want to be adopted, but now I don't. I want to hurry up and get to be 18 so I can leave the asylum and make my own living. I want—" but she stopped herself in time. Not to these open-mouthed, wide-eyed children could she tell her dream of dreams.

"But why don't you adopt, Sally?" Betsy, the baby of the group, insisted. "You been here forever and ever, ain't you?"

"Since I was four years old," Sally admitted from between lips held tight to keep them from trembling. "When I was little as you, Betsy, one of the big girls told me I was sickly and awfully tiny and scrawny when I was brought in, so nobody wanted to adopt me. They don't like sickly babies," she added bitterly. "They just want fat little babies with curly hair. Seems to me like the Lord oughta make all orphans pretty, with golden curly hair."

had been artful, coated with white powder and tinted, on cheeks and lips, with carmine rouge.

"This is Eloise Durant, girls," said Miss Pond, who was incurably sentimental and kind to orphans. "She's feeling a little homesick now and I know you will all try to make her happy. You'll take charge of her, won't you, Sally dear?"

"Yes, Miss Pond," Sally answered automatically, but her arms were already yearning to gather the little bundle of elegance and tears and homesickness.

"And Sally," Miss Pond said nervously, lowering her voice in the false hope that the weeping child might not hear her, "Mrs. Stone says her hair must be washed and then braided, like the other children's. Eloise tells us it isn't naturally curly, that her mother did it up on kid curlers every night. Her aunt's been doing it for her since her mother—died."

"I don't want to be an orphan," the newcomer protested passionately, a white-slipped foot flying out suddenly and kicking Miss Pond on the shin.

It was then that Sally took charge. She knelt, regardless of frantic, kicking little feet, and put her arms about Eloise Durant. She began to whisper to the terror-stricken child, and Miss Pond scurried away, her kind eyes brimming with tears, her kind heart swelling with impractical plans for finding luxurious homes and incredibly kind foster parents for all the orphans in the asylum—but especially for those with golden curly hair and blue eyes. For Miss Pond was a born "adopter," with all the typical adopter's prejudices and preferences.

When, scarcely two minutes after the noon dinner bell had clangered deafeningly, hundreds of little girls and big girls in faded blue and white gingham came tumbling from every direction, to halt and form a decorous procession just outside the dining hall doors, Sally and her new little charge were among them. But only the sharp eyes of the other orphans could have detected that the child who clung forlornly to Sally's hand was a newcomer. The golden curls had disappeared, and in their place were two short, yellow braids, the ends tied with bits of old shoestring. The small face, scrubbed clean of its powder and rouge, was as pale as Sally's. And instead of lace-trimmed pink crepe de chine, silk socks and white kid slippers, Eloise was clad, like every other orphan, in a skimpy frock of faded gingham, coarse black stockings and heavy black shoes.

And when the marching procession of orphans had distributed itself before long, backless benches, drawn up to long, narrow pine tables covered with torn, much-scrubbed white oilcloth, Eloise, coached in that ritual as well as in many others sacred in the institution, piped up with all the others, her voice as monotonous as theirs:

"Our heavenly Father, we thank Thee for this food and for all the other blessings Thou giveth us."

plunged down the cement walk, then plunged into the lush greenness of that vast velvet carpet, entirely unconscious that she was committing one of the major crimes of the institution. Sally, after a stunned moment, sped after her, calling out breathlessly:

"Don't dash to touch the flowers, Eloise! We ain't allowed to touch the flowers! They'd skin you alive!"

But Eloise had already broken the stem of a flaming orange and red nasturtium and was cuddling it against her cheek.

"Put it back, honey," Sally begged, herself committing the unpardonable sin of walking on the grass. "There isn't any place at all you could hide it, and if you carried it in your hand you'd get a licking sure. But don't you cry, Eloise. Sally'll tell you a fairy story in play hour this afternoon."

The two, Sally's heart already swelling with the sweet pain of having found a new child to mother, Eloise's tear-red eyes sparkling with anticipation, were hurrying up the path that led around the main building to the weaving rooms in which Sally was to work an extra hour as punishment for her morning's "playacting," when Clara Hodgson came shrieking from behind the building.

"Sally! Sally! Ford! Mrs. Stone wants you. In the office!" she added, her voice dropping slightly on a note of horror.

"What for?" Sally pretended grown-up unconcern, but her face, which had been pretty and glowing a moment before, was dull and institutional and sullen again.

"They's a man—a farmer man—talking to Stone-Face," Clara whispered, her eyes furtive and mean as they darted about to see if she were overheard. "Oh, Sally, don't let 'em 'dopt you! We wouldn't have nobody to playact for us and tell us stories! Please, Sally! Make faces at him when Stone-Face ain't lookin' so's he won't like you!"

"I'm too big to be adopted," Sally reassured her. "Nobody wants to adopt a 16-year-old girl. Here, you take Eloise to the weaving room with you."

Her voice was that of a managing, efficient, albeit loving mother, but when she turned toward the front steps of the main building her feet began to drag heavily, weighted with a fear which was reflected in her darkling blue eyes, and in the deepened pallor of her cheeks. But, oh, maybe it wasn't that! Why did she always have to worry about that—now that she was 16? Why couldn't she expect something perfectly lovely—like—like a father coming to claim his long-lost daughter? Maybe there'd be a mother, too?

The vision Sally Ford had conjured up fastened wings to her feet. She was breathless, glowing, when she arrived at the closed door of the dread "office."

The event which changes the course of Sally Ford's life takes place in the next chapter.

MACK PLEASED WITH HIS TEAM IS READY TO GO

Team Packs Wallop: Five Outfielders Hit Over 300

BY BRIAN BELL
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Port Myers, Fla., March 15—(AP)—So far as Manager Connie Mack and his Philadelphia Athletics are concerned, the American League may open its season. The tall tactician has decided on the personnel of his club in every branch but pitching and has until June to reach a final decision on that.

The outfield packs a punch with Ty Cobb, Tris Speaker and Al Simmons as regulars from right to left, and Bing Miller and Walter French in reserve. All five hit over 300 last season. Simmons led with 327, Cobb had 357, Speaker clicked for 327, Miller, wearing a St. Louis uniform, registered 323 and French finished at 304.

Vets Are Ready
Cobb and Speaker, the 40-year-old veterans, are asking no quarter from the youngsters as the season stretches ahead. Cobb did his early conditioning with the Giants while Speaker put on a Philadelphia uniform for the first time with his new teammates and was soon gathering in the fly balls, long and short, with effortless ease.

Joe Hauser, with his trick knee as good as ever, started playing first base without a limp and took his old place back without opposition. Max Bishop was assigned to second. Joe Boley retained shortstop and the hard hitting Sammy Hale again took over third. Captain Eddie Collins, who can play in a pinch, the versatile Jimmy Dykes and Joe Hassler, a Port Smith, Ark., product will make up the infield reserves.

No Catching Problem
There was no catching problem Gordon Cochrane, Ralph Perkins and Jimmy Fox satisfy behind the bat. Selection of ten pitchers to go along through the season presents the only doubt and this is causing little wear and tear on the veteran manager's baseball gray matter. Lefty Grove, the equally left handed Rube Wai-bert and Ossie Orwoll, who play the outfield or first base and hits as well as pitches, will be the three south-paws making the grade. Five right-handers who seem to have the inside track are Howard Ehmke, the veteran Jack Quinn, Ed Rommel, Jim Johnson, who came back last year, and the much traveled Joe Bush.

MULLEN AND ILL. BOXING BODY TO FIGHT N. Y. BOUT

Will Resort to Court Battle to Hold Mandell to Contract

Chicago, March 15—(AP)—Backed by the Illinois Boxing Commission, Promoter Jim Mullen of Chicago today said he was ready to employ every means known to the legal profession to prevent the lightweight match between Sammy Mandell and Jimmy McLarnin at Madison Square Garden, New York, May 17.

Mullen has the signature of Mandell and his manager, Eddie Kane, to a contract calling for a titular match in Chicago, June 21, between the champion and an unnamed opponent. Yesterday, Kane signed for the McLarnin bout under the promotion of Tex Rickard.

If Mandell goes through with the McLarnin fight, he will be suspending in the 28 states belonging to the National Boxing Association, Mullen and members of the Illinois Boxing Commission promise. He also will forfeit $5,000 which he has deposited with the Illinois Commission as a guarantee he will defend his title for Mullen on or before June 21.

"Mandell's contract with me is binding and I will take every legal step possible to stop the fight in New York," Mullen asserted explosively. "I had requested Kane to give me a reasonable length of time to obtain an opponent. I told him I would have an opponent by May 15."

HOREMANS WON 18.2 BILLIARDS TITLE LAST EVE

Defeated Schaefer in 54 Innings to Annex the Crown

San Francisco, March 14—Edouard Horemans, Belgian billiard champion, became the world 18.2 champion tonight when he defeated champion Jake Schaefer in 54 innings, 1500 to 1150 points.

Schaefer took the lead almost from the start of the match and held it until the end of the third block. At the beginning of the fourth block yesterday afternoon the champion had 900 points to 855 for the Belgian. It was in the fourth block that Horemans registered his high run of 248, which brought him within 22 points of victory in that particular session. At that time Schaefer had only 59 in the fourth block. Schaefer was "cold" by reason of his long wait in the corner while Horemans was making the big run. The challenger soon ran his string to 1200 ending the block. Schaefer's score then was 964.

The challenger resumed play in the final block by registering a 59, then for four innings he worried around, collecting only two points. Schaefer did almost as badly. Then collecting 22 Horemans had five other small innings. The champion made a desperate effort in the closing rounds, registering 44, 3, 15, and finally 87.

Southwest in Lead

Kansas City, March 15—(AP)—The southwest, home of basketball, today was represented by seven of the eight quintets remaining in the National A. A. U. tournament here. Included in the survivors of the field of 53, was the champion Hilliards squad of St. Joseph, Mo., which eliminated the Maryville, Mo. Teachers in the third round yesterday, 26 to 24.

In the upper bracket games tonight the Hilliards meet McPherson, Kas. College and the Cudahy squad faces the Cooks. Lower bracket games find the Sterling Milks matched with the Pittsburgh, Kas. Teachers and Rockhurst paired with the Kansas City Athletic Club.

British Marathon Runner Takes Lead

Peach Springs, Ariz., March 15—(AP)—When the more than 100 foot racers remaining in the Los Angeles to New York marathon lined up today the twelfth lap of the 3400 mile course, Arthur Newton, 44-year-old British endurance marvel, topped the list by the comfortable margin of nearly eight hours in elapsed time.

For the 3974 miles covered since the start March 4, the shrewy entrant from Rhodesia, South Africa had a total time of 61 hours, 23 minutes. He came in first yesterday on the 51.7 mile lap between Kingman and Peach Springs to add 1:05:30 to his lead over Andrew Payne of Claremore, Okla., second in elapsed time shandings. Payne checked in fourth yesterday and his total time today read 69:07:02.

The route led to Seligman, 38 miles eastward, bringing the racers into higher country.

Near Death in Fire

Cairo, Egypt, March 14—(AP)—George Eastman, camera manufacturer of Rochester, N. Y., and the Eastman hunting party enroute home from the heart of Africa, were among passengers of a crowded d. train which narrowly escaped when fire swept two coaches, including their pullman.

All the films which Mr. Eastman had made on his trip were destroyed. Mr. Eastman himself just escaped in his pajamas and members of his party similarly lost everything.

The loss of the films was a severe blow to the party, as the primary purpose of the expedition had been to film African life.

ILLINOIS LEADS WORLD IN HARD ROAD BUILDING

Governor Small Has Overcome Obstacles in Program

Illinois today has the most comprehensive system of roads in the United States. Statistics recently published in "American Highways," the official publication of the American Association of State Highway Officials, shows that our State has a greater mileage of paved highways than any state in the Union.

The maps hereon show the paved roads in Illinois in 1921 when Len Small became Governor, and the paved roads constructed or under construction today. The pictures speak for themselves.

Illinois today has completed on its state bond issue system a total of 5,034 miles, and in addition, on the state aid or secondary road system a total of 1,641 miles which is maintained by the State, making a grand total of 6,675 miles of durable, hard surfaced roads available for travel and maintained by the State. The entire cost of construction and maintenance of the Illinois state bond issue roads has been paid by automobile license fees and highway bonds which are paid, principal and interest, by automobile license fees and not one cent of direct taxation has ever been levied on the real or personal property of the people of this State and these roads. This has been accomplished in face of the fact that Illinois is collecting the lowest amount per car of any State in the United States today.

When Len Small was a candidate for Governor the first time in 1920, he promised the people that he would push the hard road system to a rapid completion in Illinois. He has kept his word. He has transformed his promise into accomplishment. The people of Illinois have the best assurance for the completion of the 12,000 mile system through his re-election.

Insure the completion of this wonderful hard road system by the re-nomination of Len Small.

Big steel bridges were swept away almost like driftwood at 12,000,000,000 gallons of water, released by the burst dam of the St. Francis reservoir, near Los Angeles, rushed down through the Santa Clara valley. ## World Commerce News Notes by A. P.

U. S. RICE FOR JAPAN

Washington—Uncle Sam sold Japan, the world's largest rice producer, nearly 100,000,000 pounds of rice last year. Department of commerce reports indicate that this country raised four and one-half times as much last year as in 1900, although only Louisiana, Texas, Arkansas and California grow appreciable quantities. Louisiana supplies nearly half the crop. Porto Rico is the best customer and Hawaii is second. Japan's purchases depend upon home production.

BRIQUETS STAGE WAR

Berlin—War again rages in the Ruhr valley, but this time it is a battle of briquets. Bituminous and lignite briquets vie for the honor of heating the smaller homes, and in the past decade the lignite product has succeeded in driving its bituminous rival from the territory east of the Weser river.

LITHUANIA GOES TO SEA

Riga—Lithuania is going to sea. A Lithuanian company, to be known as the "First Lithuanian Merchant Marine," is in process of organization, with only domestic funds forming its capital. It proposes to buy second-hand ships, build new tonnage and compete under the Lithuanian flag in the $3,200,000 annual shipping business now given to other countries.

ORDER FLOUR BY PHONE

Omaha—An Omaha milling company recently obtained an order for 100 tons of flour from a customer in Berlin, Germany, over long distance telephone. The flour, which must be shipped more than 5,000 miles, represents the output of 350 acres of farm land.

EQUIP RUMANIAN FIREMEN

Bucharest—Smaller cities and towns in Rumania have created a demand for modern fire fighting apparatus. A committee recently was formed here to assist the communities in improving their equipment.

MORE COWS IN GERMANY

Berlin—Germany has more cows now than before the war, latest reports show. The increase is taken to indicate that war losses in livestock have been completely recovered.

EGYPT BUYS STARCH

Alexandria—The United States sells Egypt more than four times as much starch as all other countries put together, supplying all but 500,000 of the 2,500,000 pounds imported annually. Demand for the American product is attributed to its high quality.

FRENCH RAILROADS LOSE

Paris—Seven major French railroads operated at a deficit last year.

Political Gossip

Chicago, March 15.—(AP)—Possible political effects of the death of Joseph F. Haas, County Recorder and an influential supporter of the Deneen group, were studied by leaders of both factions of the state Republican party today.

His passing was looked upon as a blow to the Deneen-Emmerson slate as he generally was regarded as its strongest vote-getter in Cook county.

Through Haas, the Deneen group controlled about two-thirds of its patronage. Between 400 and 500 jobs will pass into the hands of the Thompson-Small faction, it was predicted, when the Board of County Commissioners meets Monday. John Jaranowski, a County Commissioner, was mentioned as the probable successor.

When Governor Small addressed a rally in Redbud yesterday, the town declared a holiday and banks, schools and stores were closed. The Governor was accompanied by Frank L. Smith, candidate for United States Senator, and Judge Robert E. Gentzel, running for Secretary of State.

The Governor and his party were scheduled to address meetings in Bloomington today and Peoria tonight. At about the same time, Emmerson and his running mates, Otis F. Glenn, opposing Smith for the Senate; and Oscar Carlstrom, seeking reelection as Attorney General, planned to invade Galva, Keokuk, Princeton, Geneseo, Moline and Rock Island.

In Chicago, a group of society women opened campaign headquarters in the Palmer house for Mrs. Ruth Hanna McCormick, candidate for Congressman-at-Large.

LETTER GOLF

FOR BEFORE DINNER

It's easy for a good chef to make good soup and it's just as easy for letter golf fans to go from CHEF to SOP. Par is six, but you may be able to do it in less. One solution is printed on page 11.

S	O	U	P
C	H	E	F

THE RULES

- 1.—The idea of letter golf is to change one word to another and do it in par, a given number of strokes. Thus to change COW to HEN, in three strokes, COW, HOW, HEW, HEN.
- 2.—You can change only one letter at a time.
- 3.—You must have a complete word, of common usage, for each pump. Slang words and abbreviations don't count.
- 4.—The order of letters cannot be changed.

One solution is printed on page 11.

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY

FELLOWSHIP OF PRAYER

Life. A Mission. (Read John 15:8-16). Memory Verse: Ye did not choose me, but I chose you. (John 15:16).

Jesus was trying to give his disciples a view of their relation to him that would keep them faithful and sustain them in the face of difficulty and fatigue. They were not volunteers, he told them, but conscripts. True, they had chosen him, but he had also chosen them to become his servants and messengers. The religious man feels that God has called him for a great work. He has duties to perform, and a place to fill. He cannot flee from those duties without being a deserter from God. This sublime sense of responsibility to Almighty God is one of the greatest moral incentives in the world.

Prayer: Increase, O God, the faith and zeal of all thy people that they may more earnestly desire and more diligently seek the saving of their fellowmen through the message of thy love in Jesus Christ, Our Lord. Amen.

There is no new thing under the sun.—Ecc. 1:9.

In these times we fight for ideas, and newspapers are our fortresses.—Heine.

GIRL ALONE

COPYRIGHT 1928 BY NEA SERVICE

ANNE AUSTIN AUTHOR OF "SAINT AND SINNER"

SALLY FORD moved the big brush with angry vigor, while her pale face colored a red. "I ain't—I mean, I'm not pretty at all, Clara. But thank you just the same. I used to want to be adopted, but now I don't. I want to hurry up and get to be 18 so's I can leave the asylum and make my own living. I want—" but she stopped herself in time. Not to these open-mouthed, wide-eyed children could she tell her dream of dreams.

"But why wasn't you adopted, Sally?" Betsy, the baby of the group, insisted. "You been here forever and ever, ain't you?"

"Since I was four years old," Sally admitted from between lips held tight to keep them from trembling. "When I was little as you, Betsy, one of the big girls told me I was sickly and awfully tiny and scrawny when I was brought in, so nobody wanted to adopt me. They don't like sickly babies," she added bitterly. "They just want fat little babies with curly hair. Seems to me like the Lord oughta made all orphans pretty, with golden curly hair."

"I know why Sally wasn't adopted," Thelma clattered for attention. "I heard Miss Pond say it was a sin and a shame the way old Stone-Face has kept Sally here, year in and year out, just 'cause she's so good to us little kids. Miss Pond said Sally is better'n any trained nurse when us kids get sick and that she does more work than any 'big girl' they ever had here. That's why you ain't been adopted, Sally."

"I know it," Sally confessed in a low voice. "But I couldn't be mean to the babies just so they'd want to get rid of me and let somebody adopt me. Besides," she added, "I'm scared of people—outside. I'm scared of all grown-up people, especially of adopters," she blurted miserably. "I can't sashay up and down before 'em and act cute and laugh and pretend like I've got a sweet disposition and like I'm crazy about 'em. I don't look pretty a bit when the adopters send for me. I can't play-act then."

"You're bashful, Sally," Clara told her shrewdly. "I'm not bashful—much, except when visitors come and we have to show off our company manners. I hate visitors! They whisper about us, call us 'poor little things,' and think they're better'n us."

The floor of the big room had been completely scrubbed, and was giving out a moist odor of yellow soap when Miss Pond, who worked in the office on the first floor of the big main building, arrived leading a reluctant little girl by the hand.

To the four orphans in faded blue and white gingham the newcomer looked unbelievably splendid, more like the "princess" that Betsy had been impersonating than like a mortal child. Her golden hair hung in precisely arranged curls to her shoulders. Her dress was of pink crepe de chine, trimmed with many yards of cream-colored lace. There were pink silk socks and little white kid slippers. And her pretty face, though it was streaked with tears, had been artful, coated with white powder and tinted, on cheeks and lips, with carmine rouge.

"This is Eloise Durant, girls," said Miss Pond, who was incurably sentimental and kind to orphans. "She's feeling a little homesick now and I know you will all try to make her happy. You'll take charge of her, won't you, Sally dear?"

"Yes, Miss Pond," Sally answered automatically, but her arms were already yearning to gather the little bundle of elegance and tears and homesickness.

"And Sally," Miss Pond said nervously, lowering her voice in the false hope that the weeping child might not hear her, "Mrs. Stone says her hair must be washed and then braided, like the other children's. Eloise tells us it isn't naturally curly, that her mother did it up on kid curlers every night. Her aunt's been doing it for her since her mother—died."

"I don't want to be an orphan," the newcomer protested passionately, a white-slipped foot flying out suddenly and kicking Miss Pond on the shin.

It was then that Sally took charge. She knelt, regardless of frumps, kicking little feet, and put her arms about Eloise Durant. She began to whisper to the terror-stricken child, and Miss Pond hurried away, her kind eyes brimming with tears, her kind heart swelling with impractical plans for finding luxurious homes and incredibly kind foster parents for all the orphans in the asylum—but especially for those with golden curly hair and blue eyes. For Miss Pond was a born "adopter," with all the typical adopter's prejudices and preferences.

When, scarcely two minutes after the noon dinner bell had clanged deafeningly, hundreds of little girls and big girls in faded blue and white gingham came tumbling from every direction, to halt and form a decorous procession just outside the dining hall doors, Sally and her new little charge were among them. But only the sharp eyes of the other orphans could have detected that the child who clung forlornly to Sally's hand was a newcomer. The golden curls had disappeared, and in their place were two short wet braids, the ends tied with bits of old shoestring. The small face, scrubbed clean of its powder and rouge, was as pale as Sally's. And instead of lace-trimmed pink crepe de chine, silk socks and white kid slippers, Eloise was clad in every other orphan, in a skimpy frock of faded gingham, coarse black stockings and heavy black shoes.

And when the marching procession of orphans had distributed itself before long, backless benches, drawn up to long, narrow pine tables covered with torn, much-scrubbed white oilcloth, Eloise, coaxed in that ritual as well as in many others sacred in the institution, piped up with all the others, her voice as monotonous as theirs:

"Our heavenly Father, we thank Thee for this food and for all the other blessings Thou giveth us."

Sally Ford, keeping a watchful, pitying eye on her new charge, who was only nibbling at the unappetizing food, found herself looking up on the familiar scene with the eyes of the frightened little new orphan. It was a game that Sally Ford often played—imagining herself someone else, seeing familiar things through eyes which had never beheld them before.

Because Eloise was a "new girl," Sally was permitted to keep her at her side after the noon dinner. It was Sally who showed her all the buildings of the big orphanage, pointed out the boys' dormitories, separated from the girls' quarters by the big kitchen garden; showed her the bare schoolrooms, in which Sally herself had just completed the third year of high school. It was Sally who proudly showed her the meagerly equipped gymnasium, the gift of a miraculously philanthropic session of the state legislature; it was Sally who conducted her through the many rooms devoted to hand crafts suited to girls—showing off a bit as she expertly manipulated a hand loom or ran a quick seam on a sewing machine.

Eloise's hot little hand clung tightly to Sally's, on the long trip of inspection of her new "home." But her cry, hopeless and monotonous now, even taking on a little of the institutional whine, was still the same heartbroken protest she had uttered upon her arrival in the dormitory: "I don't want to be an orphan! I don't want to be an orphan, Sally!"

"It ain't—I mean, isn't—so bad," Sally comforted her. "Sometimes we have lots of fun. And Christmas is awfully nice. Every girl gets an orange and a little sack of candy and a present. And we have turkey for dinner, and ice cream."

"My mama gave me candy every day," Eloise whimpered. "Her men friends bring it to her—boxes and boxes of it, and flowers, too. God was mean to let her die, and make an orphan outa me!"

And because Sally herself had frequently been guilty of the same sinful thought, she hurried Eloise, without rebuking her, to the front lawn which always made visitors exclaim, "Why, how pretty! And so homelike! Aren't the poor little things fortunate to have such a beautiful home?"

For the front lawn, upon which no orphan was allowed to set foot except in company with a lawn-mower or a clipping shears, was beautiful. Now, in early June, it lay in the sun, like an immense carpet, studded with round or star-shaped beds of bright flowers. From the front, the building looked stately and grand, too, with its clean red bricks and its big, fluted white pillars. They were the only two orphans in sight, except a pair of overalls boys, their tow heads bare to the hot sun, their lean arms, bare to the shoulders in their ragged shirts, pushing steadily against whirling lawn-mowers.

"Oh, nasturtiums!" Eloise crowed, the first happy sound she had made since entering the orphanage. She broke from Sally's grasp, plowing has been done, and in the and spring wheat has begun. Roads central counties the seeding of oats are bad in many sections.

The vision Sally Ford had conjured up fastened wings to her feet. She was breathless, glowing, when she arrived at the closed door of the dread "office."

SPORTS OF ALL SORTS

MACK PLEASED WITH HIS TEAM IS READY TO GO

Team Packs Wallop: Five Outfielders Hit Over 300

BY BRIAN BELL
(Associated Press Sports Writer)
Fort Myers, Fla., March 15—(AP)—So far as Manager Connie Mack and his Philadelphia Athletics are concerned, the American League may open its season. The tall tactician has decided on the personnel of his club in every branch but pitching and has until June to reach a final decision on that.

The outfield packs a punch with Ty Cobb, Tris Speaker and Al Simmons as regulars from right to left, and Bing Miller and Walter French in reserve. All five hit over 300 last season. Simmons led with 392, Cobb had 357, Speaker clicked for 327, Miller, wearing a St. Louis uniform, registered 325 and French finished at 304.

Vets Are Ready
Cobb and Speaker, the 40-year-old veterans, are asking no quarter from the youngsters as the season stretches ahead. Cobb did his early conditioning with the Giants while Speaker put on a Philadelphia uniform for the first time with his new teammates and was soon gathering in the fly balls, long and short, with effortless ease.

Joe Hauser, with his trick knee as good as ever, started playing first base without a limp and took his old place back without opposition. Max Bishop was assigned to second, Joe Boley retained shortstop and the hard hitting Sammy Hale again took over third. Captain Eddie Collins who can play in a pinch, the versatile Jimmy Dykes and Joe Hassler, a Fort Smith, Ark., product will make up the infield reserves.

No Catching Problem
There was no catching problem Gordon Cochrane, Ralph Perkins and Jimmy Fox satisfy behind the bat. Selection of ten pitchers to go along through the season presents the only doubt and this is causing little wear and tear on the veteran manager's baseball gray matter. Lefty Grove, the equally left handed Rube Wai- bert and Ossie Orvill, who play the outfield or first base and hits as well as pitches, will be the three south-paws making the grade. Five right-handers who seem to have the inside track are Howard Emske, the veteran Jack Quinn, Ed Rommel, Ding Johnson, who came back last year, and the much traveled Joe Bush.

MULLEN AND ILL. BOXING BODY TO FIGHT N. Y. BOUT

Will Resort to Court Battle to Hold Mandell to Contract

Chicago, March 15—(AP)—Backed by the Illinois Boxing Commission, Promoter Jim Mullen of Chicago today said he was ready to employ every means known to the legal profession to prevent the lightweight match between Sammy Mandell and Jimmy McLarnin at Madison Square Garden, New York, May 17.

Mullen has the signature of Mandell and his manager, Eddie Kane, to a contract calling for a titular match in Chicago, June 21, between the champion and an unnamed opponent. Yesterday, Kane signed for the McLarnin bout under the promotion of Tex Rickard.

If Mandell goes through with the McLarnin fight, he will be suspended in the 28 states belonging to the National Boxing Association, Mullen and members of the Illinois Boxing Commission promise. He also will forfeit $5,000 which he has deposited with the Illinois Commission as a guarantee he will defend his title for Mullen on or before June 21.

Mandell's contract with me is binding and I will take every legal step possible to stop the fight in New York," Mullen asserted explosively. "I had requested Kane to give me reasonable length of time to obtain an opponent. I told him I would have an opponent by May 15."

HOREMANS WON 18.2 BILLIARDS TITLE LAST EVE

Defeated Schaefer in 54 Innings to Annex the Crown

San Francisco, March 14—Edouard Horemans, Belgian billiard champion, became the world 18.2 champion tonight when he defeated champion Jake Schaefer in 54 innings, 1500 to 1100 points.

Schaefer took the lead almost from the start of the match and held it until the end of the third block. At the beginning of the fourth block yesterday afternoon the champion had 900 points to 855 for the Belgian.

It was in the fourth block, that Horemans registered his high run of 248, which brought him within 22 points of victory in that particular session. At that time Schaefer had only 59 in the fourth block. Schaefer was "cold" by reason of his long wait in the corner while Horemans was making the big run. The challenger soon ran his string to 1200 ending the block. Schaefer's score then was 964.

The challenger resumed play in the final block by registering a 59, then for four innings he worried along, collecting only two points. Schaefer did almost as badly. Then after collecting 22 Horemans had five other small innings. The champion made a desperate effort in the closing rounds, registering 44, 3, 15, and finally 87.

Southwest in Lead
Kansas City, March 15—(AP)—The southwest, home of basketball, today was represented by seven of the eight quintets remaining in the National A. A. U. tournament here.

Included in the survivors of the field of 53, was the champion Hilliards squad of St. Joseph, Mo., which eliminated the Maryville, Mo. Teachers in the third round yesterday, 28 to 24.

In the upper bracket games tonight the Hilliards meet McPherson, Kas. College and the Cudahy squad faces the Cooks. Lower bracket games find the Sterling Milks matched with the Pittsburgh, Kas. Teachers and Rockhurst paired with the Kansas City Athletic Club.

British Marathon Runner Takes Lead
Peach Springs, Ariz., March 15—(AP)—When the more than 100 foot racers remaining in the Los Angeles to New York marathon lined up today the twelfth lap of the 3400 mile course, Arthur Newton, 44-year-old British endurance marvel, topped the list by the comfortable margin of nearly eight hours in elapsed time.

For the 3574 miles covered since the start March 4, the slowney entrant from Rhodesia, South Africa had a total time of 61 hours, 23 minutes. He came in first yesterday on the 517 mile lap between Kingman and Peach Springs to add 1,053.30 to his lead over Andrew Payne of Claremore, Okla., second in elapsed time shandings. Payne checked in fourth yesterday and his total time today read 69:07:02.

The route led to Seligman, 38 miles eastward, bringing the racers into higher country.

Near Death in Fire
Cairo, Egypt, March 14—(AP)—George Eastman, camera manufacturer of Rochester, N. Y., and the Eastman hunting party enroute home from the heart of Africa, were among passengers of a crowded de luxe train who narrowly escaped when first swept two coaches, including their pullman.

All the films which Mr. Eastman had made on his trip were destroyed. Mr. Eastman himself just escaped in his pajamas and members of his party similarly lost everything.

The loss of the films was a severe blow to the party, as the primary purpose of the expedition had been to film African life.

ILLINOIS LEADS WORLD IN HARD ROAD BUILDING

Governor Small Has Overcome Obstacles in Program

Illinois today has the most comprehensive system of roads in the United States. Statistics recently published in "American Highways," the official publication of the American Association of State Highway Officials, shows that our State has a greater mileage of paved highways than any state in the Union.

The maps hereon show the paved roads in Illinois in 1921 when Len Small became Governor, and the paved roads constructed or under construction today. The pictures speak for themselves.

Illinois today has completed on its state bond issue system a total of 5,034 miles, and in addition, on the state aid or secondary road system a total of 1,641 miles which is maintained by the State, making a grand total of 6,675 miles of durable, hard surfaced roads available for travel and maintained by the State.

The entire cost of construction and maintenance of the Illinois state bond issue roads has been paid by automobile license fees and highway bonds which are paid, principal and interest, by automobile license fees and not out of direct taxation. There has never been levied on the real or personal property of the people of this State and these roads. This has been accomplished in face of the fact that Illinois is collecting the lowest amount per car of any State in the United States today.

When Len Small was a candidate for Governor the first time in 1920, he promised the people that he would push the hard road system to a rapid completion in Illinois. He has kept his word. He has transformed his promise into accomplishment. The people of Illinois have the best assurance for the completion of the 12,000 mile system through his re-election.

Insure the completion of this wonderful hard road system by the re-nomination of Len Small.

BRIDGES SWEEP AWAY LIKE DRIFTWOOD IN PACIFIC FLOOD THAT TRAPS 200

Big steel bridges were swept away almost like driftwood at 12,000,000,000 gallons of water, released by the burst dam of the St. Francis reservoir, near Los Angeles, rushed down through the Santa Clara valley. This telephoto picture shows all that remained of a bridge near Saugus after the great wall of water had passed by.

World Commerce News Notes by A. P.

U. S. RICE FOR JAPAN

Washington—Uncle Sam sold Japan, the world's largest rice producer, nearly 100,000,000 pounds of rice last year. Department of commerce reports indicate that this country raised four and one-half times as much last year as in 1900, although only Louisiana, Texas, Arkansas and California grow appreciable quantities. Louisiana supplies nearly half the crop. Porto Rico is the best customer and Hawaii is second. Japan's purchases depend upon home production.

BRIQUETS TAKE WAR

Berlin—War again rages in the Ruhr valley, but this time it is a battle of briquets. Bituminous and lignite briquets vie for the honor of heating the smaller homes, and in the past decade the lignite product has succeeded in driving its bituminous rival from the territory east of the Weser river.

LITHUANIA GOES TO SEA

Riga—Lithuania is going to sea. A Lithuanian company, to be known as the "First Lithuanian Merchant Marine," is in process of organization, with only domestic funds forming its capital. It proposes to buy second-hand ships, build new tonnage and compete under the Lithuanian flag in the $3,200,000 annual shipping business now given to other countries.

ORDER FLOUR BY PHONE

Omaha—An Omaha milling company recently obtained an order for 100 tons of flour from a customer in Berlin, Germany, over long distance telephone. The flour, which must be shipped more than 5,000 miles, represents the output of 350 acres of farm land.

EQUIP ROMANIAN FIREMEN

Bucharest—Smaller cities and towns in Rumania have created a demand for modern fire fighting apparatus. A committee recently was formed here to assist the communities in improving their equipment.

MORE COWS IN GERMANY

Berlin—Germany has more cows now than before the war, latest reports show. The increase is taken to indicate that war losses in livestock have been completely recovered.

EGYPT BUYS STARCH

Alexandria—The United States sells Egypt more than four times as much starch as all other countries put together, supplying all but 500,000 of the 2,500,000 pounds imported annually. Demand for the American product is attributed to its high quality.

FRENCH RAILROADS LOSE

Paris—Seven major French railroads operated at a deficit last year.

Mothers, Do This—

When the children cough, rub Musterole on their throats and chests. No telling how soon the symptoms may develop into croup, or worse. And then when you're glad you have a jar of Musterole at hand to give prompt relief. As first aid, Musterole is excellent. Keep a jar ready for instant use.

It is the remedy for adults, too. Relieves sore throat, bronchitis, tonsillitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, chilblains, frosted feet and colds of the chest (it may prevent pneumonia).

To Mothers: Musterole is also made in milder form for babies and small children. Ask for Children's Musterole.

Higher rates augmented gross receipts, but car loadings declined and operating expenses increased.

FLORIDA FRUIT ABROAD

London—Three shillings a box was saved on the first direct shipment of Florida citrus fruit to England. Some 5,000 cases of grapefruit and 1,000 cases of oranges were pre-cooled in a Jacksonville, Florida, cold storage plant and then placed in a ship's refrigerator chamber. Usually citrus fruit first is shipped by rail to New York.

EMERGENCY SALES GROW

Tenerife—Exports of hand embroidery from the Canary Islands to the United States nearly doubled last year. New factories have been opened and virtually all concerns have been on a full-time basis. The embroidery on linen is sold in smaller amounts to Cuba, England and South America.

MADRID BOURSE ACTIVE

Madrid—Nearly 90 per cent of the turnover on the Madrid Bourse is confined to state, municipal and semi-official issues. Fixed income industrials also attract buyers, but dealings in investment stocks are small. Trading increased about 45 per cent last year.

NEW WATER SUPPLY

Valetta—Discovery of a new water supply in Malta, previous lack of which has prevented the establishment of any industry, has caused jubilation. Reports indicate the water has not deteriorated in quality after continuous pumping, as has been the case with other wells.

Brief Summary of Last Night's News

(BY THE AP)

Ottawa—Forty-four points as to why Hiram Reed should receive a new trial were listed by his attorneys in a petition filed yesterday. The jury was unduly influenced by the unfriendly attitude of the courtroom crowds toward the young man accused of bombing the Pleasant Valley schoolhouse, it was held. At first trial Reed was found guilty of putting dynamite in the stove. Arguments on a new trial will be held Saturday.

Political Gossip

Chicago, March 15—(AP)—Possible political effects of the death of Joseph F. Haas, County Recorder and an influential supporter of the Deneen group, were studied by leaders of both factions of the state Republican party today.

His passing was looked upon as a blow to the Deneen-Emmerson slate as he generally was regarded as its strongest vote-getter in Cook county.

Through Haas, the Deneen group controlled about two-thirds of its patronage. Between 400 and 500 jobs will pass into the hands of the Thompson-Small faction, it was predicted, when the Board of County Commissioners meets Monday. John Jaranowski, a County Commissioner, was mentioned as the probable successor.

When Governor Small addressed a rally in Redbud yesterday, the town declared a holiday and banks, schools and stores were closed. The Governor was accompanied by Frank L. Smith, candidate for United States Senator, and Judge Robert E. Gentzel, running for Secretary of State.

The Governor and his party were scheduled to address meetings in Bloomington today and Peoria tonight. At about the same time, Emmerson and his running mates, Otis F. Glenn, opposing Smith for the Senate; and Oscar Carlstrom, seeking reelection as Attorney General, planned to invade Galva, Keokuk, Princeton, Geneseo, Moline and Rock Island.

In Chicago, a group of society women opened campaign headquarters in the Palmer house for Mrs. Ruth Hanna McCormick, candidate for Congressman-at-Large.

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY

FELLOWSHIP OF PRAYER

Life, A Mission. (Read John 15:8-16). Memory Verse: Ye did not choose me, but I chose you. (John 15:16).

Jesus was trying to give his disciples a view of their relation to him that would keep them faithful and sustain them in the face of difficulty and fatigue. They were not volunteers, he told them, but conscripts. True, they had chosen him, but he had also chosen them to become his servants and messengers. The religious man feels that God has called him for a great work. He has duties to perform, and a place to fill. He cannot flee from those duties without being a deserter from God. This sublime sense of responsibility to Almighty God is one of the greatest moral incentives in the world.

Prayer: Increase, O God, the faith and zeal of all thy people that they may more earnestly desire and more diligently seek the saving of their fellowmen through the message of thy love in Jesus Christ, Our Lord. Amen.

There is no new thing under the sun.—Ecc. 1:9.

In these times we fight for ideas, and newspapers are our fortresses.—Heine.

FIGHT FOR GENE IN JUNE IS NOT LIKELY: RICKARD

None of Heavies in the Game Have Class of Champion

New York, March 16.—(AP)—Feeling anything but cheerful after thinking about his heavyweight merry-go-round, Tex Rickard was Florida-bound today leaving an impression that Gene Tunney would be without an opponent on June 14, the date projected for a heavyweight title match at the Yankee Stadium.

Although Rickard did not make any definite announcement that the June bout was off, he said he would confer with the champion at Miami Beach before trotting any more heavyweights into the competition for his contemplated big show.

Rickard has been trying his best to provide a foe at once worthy of the champion's steel and the public's gold but thus far has not been impressed with the results. At the present time Tom Heeney and Johnny Risko stand out as the principals of his final in the eliminations but their victories over Jack Delaney and Jack Sharkey respectively lacked the quality he seeks to put on a championship affair.

Tunney is reported to be of the opinion that Tom Heeney looks like the best opponent and cites Heeney's triumphs over Risko and Delaney and his draw fights with Sharkey and Paulino as the best record of the elimination group.

Taberski Leading

Chicago, March 15.—(AP)—Undeclared in six matches Frank Taberski of Schenectady, N. Y., the national pocket billiard champion, today held undisputed leadership in the current tournament.

Ralph Greenleaf of Philadelphia and Erwin Rudolph of Chicago, former titleholders, remained favorites to give the champion a run for first place money. Each had dropped a game but they have yet to meet each other and Taberski. Greenleaf occupied second place by reason of

The True Story of an Appendix

By Cornelius Van Zwalenburg, M. D.,
Riverside, Calif.

Member Gorgas Memorial

(The following is one of a series of articles prepared under the direction of the Gorgas Memorial as part of its Better Health and Longer Life program. President Coolidge is the honorary president of the Memorial, which has been organized and endowed by prominent doctors and laymen throughout the country to perpetuate the work of the late Major-General Gorgas in preventing unnecessary illness. Headquarters of the Gorgas Memorial are at 400 North Michigan Avenue, Chicago.)

Acute appendicitis begins with an obstruction in the appendix which, as a result, becomes distended with fluid and the inside is soon a real abscess.

The appendix is the remains of a very useful organ of digestion. In many animals, especially the herbivora, it is larger than the stomach. As a result of it being a degenerating organ it takes on various irregularities. It is frequently curled and kinked and has narrowed places in its interior. The contents of the intestines pass freely into and out of it in the normal state. The more kinks and obstructions, the more difficult is this flow. Sooner or later the appendix which has these constrictions will have something forced into it which cannot get out. This foreign material forms a real ball valve, sometimes as hard as stone. As soon as this obstruction takes place fluid accumulates behind it and distends the organ. Very soon the pressure from this accumulated fluid is sufficient to stop the flow of fluid in the veins of the inside, which means more and faster accumulation of fluid, because the arteries have a pressure of approximately five feet. The veins cannot carry the fluid away, consequently the appendix balloons just exactly as an abscess does. In abscesses this same pressure on the blood vessels takes place.

The always present disease germs cause inflammation when this distention with arrested circulation occurs. If the accumulated pressure upon this constriction, plus the contraction of the appendix muscle, forces the plug into the intestines, the patient is at once relieved. His pain may stop promptly and immediately he is on the high road to recovery. If this plug is not driven out the accumulation of fluid goes on until all the circulation is arrested and the disease germs which are always present produce death or local gangrene. Rupture occurs, as a rule, approximately forty-eight hours after the closing of the constriction but it may occur as early as twenty-four hours, or even after seventy-two hours—rarely beyond these limits. This is why surgery in the first twenty-four hours is so necessary.

The beginning of the attack is marked by sharp pain in the abdomen, which may stop as promptly as it comes on, by the escape of the plug into the intestines. Again the pain may gradually ease up after

QUICK PILE RELIEF

Dr. Leonhardt's Hem-Roid is guaranteed to banish any form of Pile misery, or money back. It gives quick action even in old, stubborn cases. Hem-Roid is a harmless tablet that removes blood congestion in the lower bowel—the cause of piles. It brings joyful relief quickly and safely or costs nothing. Rowland's Pharmacy, Dixon and Rochelle, and druggists everywhere sell it with this guarantee—Adv.

twenty-four to thirty-six hours on account of the numbing effect of the pressure and death of the local nerves. This easing of pain often gives the patient a false security and even the doctor may be deceived. This is when both doctor and patient need all the tests that modern science can give to decide between the false security of impending gangrene and rupture, or the driving out of the plug which means prompt recovery of the patient.

When the appendix ruptures the real danger period begins—that is peritonitis. If only a small part of the appendix is involved and only a few drops of pus of very low virulence escape, nature may be able to control its spread by making a localized abscess. If a large amount of fluid is suddenly discharged freely into the abdominal cavity and especially if a very virulent germ is present the danger to the patient immediately becomes extreme.

New Heads Named by State Utility Assns.

Springfield, Ill., March 15.—(AP)—Three new presidents for the three public utilities groups in convention here were announced this morning.

J. E. Johnson, vice-president of the Illinois Power and Light Corporation, Chicago, was made president of the Illinois State Electric Association. J. W. Strawn, of Peoria, connected with the Central Illinois Light Company, was made president of the Illinois Gas Association. Ray Palm-lade, of the Illinois Power & Light Corporation, Peoria, was named president of the Illinois Electric Railway Association.

Prof. E. R. Dillavou of the University of Illinois was the principal speaker at the morning session today.

The terminable permit instead of a fixed-term franchise holds the greatest promise for better and cheaper utility services, he told the delegates at their joint session.

The terminable permit, he said, enables investors to safely supply

AN EASY WAY TO LOSE FAT

Instead of abnormal exercise or diet, they combat a cause of excess fat. They supply an element Nature employs to turn food into fuel and energy. This method was discovered by research men some two decades ago. It has for 20 years been embodied in Marmola prescription tablets. Millions of boxes have been taken, and almost every circle shows the results in new beauty, new health and vitality.

The formula comes in every box, also the scientific reasons for results. So users have no fear of harm. Go learn now what Marmola does for excess fat, and why. Your druggist supplies it at $1 per box. Take four tablets daily and watch the change.

the public utilities with money with which to extend and improve their services at long-time interest rates. A few years before a fixed term franchise expires, investors are loath to supply money and until a new agreement is made users of utilities must wait for extensions, he declared.

Charles N. Wheeler, assistant to the president of the Illinois Power and Light Corporation of Chicago, urged upon the utility officials a freer use of newspapers in advertising.

Newspapers, he said, provide the most direct and quickest method of disseminating information ever known in the history of communication.

Experiments on moths show that there is no substance which can be put into an ordinary trunk which will kill caterpillars of the clothes moth.

Tame Session Today

Washington, March 14.—(AP)—After a tame session today the Senate Teapot Dome committee turned its quest for the Continental Trading Company's Liberty bonds toward Chicago, where its next meeting will be held tomorrow morning at 10:30 o'clock.

A. V. Leonard, secretary to the late Fred W. Upham, treasurer of the Republican National Committee, today's lone witness, testified that he knew nothing of Sinclair Liberty bonds sent to Upham by Will H. Hays, who was chairman of the committee during the Harding campaign.

More Charm— no blemishes now

UNDERNEATH a clear, smooth skin, healthy tissues—full of rich, red blood—thrive.

No worry about pimples now. Instead there is a certain satisfaction that gives confidence.

All this because rich, red blood is Nature's way of building and sustaining the body.

Without plenty of rich, red blood, there can be no strong, sturdy, powerful men, or beautiful, healthy women.

You know a clear skin comes from within. Correct the cause—through the blood—and pimples, boils, eczema and that sallow complexion will disappear.

Thousands have regained their strength and charm by taking a few bottles of S.S.S.—Nature's own tonic for restoring the appetite—building strength—and clearing the body of so-called skin troubles.

"I was troubled with pimples and blackheads. I took a course of S.S.S. It cleared my face and back. I think S.S.S. is wonderful. I have told many friends about S.S.S., and they are getting as much benefit as I did."
